NURTURE THE CHILD IN EACH OF US ...

Children are curious, creative and imaginative. They embrace discovery and wonder. They are natural learners. These are precious qualities that should be nurtured and stimulated throughout life. Lifelong creativity, imagination and learning are stimulated by playful activities that encourage hands-on and minds-on creation, fun, togetherness, and the sharing of ideas.

People who have a childlike urge to learn are thus best equipped to thrive in a challenging and changing world, and to become the builders of the future. That's why we have made it our mission to nurture the child in each of us. And we'll do this by providing quality products and experiences that stimulate creativity, imagination, fun and learning.

MAKE LEARNING PLAYFUL

Imagine that you are that little person about to get out there and meet the world for the very first time! To experience sound and light, shapes and colours, voices and silence; to sense and understand, stand and walk, communicate and act, be yourself and be with other people - yes, to learn all the fundamental skills you will use the rest of your life...

Wouldn't it be nice if someone understood that you could use a little help and inspiration along the way?
Someone who really knew what you were up against.

Someone who worked hard to find the best ways to make learning playful?

Hi! I want to see, listen,

Your new baby will love gazing at the friendly faces and warm colours. Later, there's the fun of testing itchy gums on the smooth pieces, and shaking them to hear the rattling noises. Ideal for the cot, car and pram.

Nourish those tender senses

All five senses are ready for use from the moment your baby is born – if not before. And your loving care, smiles and affection bring them on in the most natural way. But you can give your baby's earliest sensory experiences extra nourishment through cheerful colours and patterns, soft shapes and materials, gentle, rhythmic music, and with toys created to develop just as rapidly as your baby.

Only the very best for baby

Slowly but surely your baby will get better and better at controlling movements, and reaching out for life and all the excitement it has to offer. Objects close by just ask to be touched, squeezed, investigated, turned and twisted, or crammed into your baby's mouth to ease those tender gums. So your baby's toys must be hard and soft, colourful and flexible in order to stimulate movements – which your baby's getting more and more proficient at controlling every day!

Play hide and seek: surprise your baby by flipping between the black & yellow bee and the black & red ladybird. Your baby will also enjoy gazing at, shaking, and grasping the crinkly wings of this soft toy.

LEGO BABY

LEGO

Stimulate early hands-on, minds-on experience

Things are really taking off. Baby can tell the difference between frogs and flies, trains and towers, yes and no – and can move around and investigate. And your baby can use both hands to make things happen and get to grip with what's up and what's down, what fits together and what doesn't. Trial and error is very important now – and baby needs toys that will challenge him or her to try out new combinations, seek new solutions, and draw new conclusions. Learn to put two and two together ...

Firstly, the elements are fun to chew on, and then, as co-ordination improves, babies explore putting the pieces together, making the vehicle roll, and rocking the seesaw. Simple, first play activities that build confidence.

Encourage your insatiable natural learner

Your child is no longer a small baby – your child is ready to learn how to stand up and walk, think, and talk. Your child learns from anything and anyone. Your child absorbs impressions and expressions at lightning speed from you and other carers, brothers, sisters, and other toddlers.

Your child is beginning to understand similarities and differences, matching and sorting, action and reaction. So why not give your child tools that will stimulate inborn curiosity and the desire to learn new skills and abilities?

It turns from a convenient place to store the LEGO elements and building plate that come with it into a handy support when your baby develops the urge to stand and walk. Stable design that won't tip over.

Encourage imaginative and social interaction

Little girls love role-play from their own everyday lives and they love making up games based on their own observations. They also sort out quite a bit when they play families. But very few dolls are of a size that little two-year-old hands can handle – or they look like fashion queens your little girl doesn't exactly need to idolize yet.

Easy to dress and undress, nurse and love ...

Check out the new LEGO® DUPLO Dolls, babies and accessories, especially crafted for small hands and big imaginations. There are four LEGO DUPLO Dolls to choose from, any of which your child will kiss and hug, feed and nurse, praise and scold – and perhaps build a LEGO DUPLO house for?

Stimulate interpretation and a wide range of expression

Girls and boys need to figure out and express their experiences of a world that's constantly expanding, and to experiment with what they pick up at home, on television, when they're out, or on holiday.

So give them the opportunity to express themselves creatively. Help them to apply their imaginations to what they see, to rewrite the plot, to interpret and renew their experience of the world about them. Get to know the princesses!

Character booklets come with princesses Flora, Elena, Vanilla and Rosita – and a story booklet with the Enchanted Garden set. Just to get the playing started!

Princess Flora adores flowers. She lives with Elena in their Enchanted Garden.

Princess Elena loves to sing. She lives with Flora in their Enchanted Garden.

Princess Vanilla loves to invite you and the other princesses for tea – and she has cups for everyone.

Princess Rosita likes talking to animals – especially the ones in her Dream Stable.

In the time before time, the island of Mata Nui was a paradise to behold. Many great beasts, known as Rahi, worked in harmony with the villagers. Then Makuta came and cast a dark shadow across the land. Makuta brought a great hunger to the Rahi, a hunger for the sacred Kanohi masks. And the islanders made stone carvings to warn of these awesome beasts.

In these dark times Rahi challenge Toa without respect, and Rahi will challenge even their own kind, such as their hunger. Muaka, the great cat, prowls plain and jungle, hungry for masks. Nui-Rama fly in ruthless swarms hunting Kanohi. Nui-Jaga lie behind every boulder, ready to stun. Finally, there are stories of massed legions, deep in caves and tunnels, of the most fearsome beast of all, the Manas.

These mighty Rahi must be freed from their masks, so that the Toa may complete their quest and restore the light of Mata Nui.

Futebol de Salão

UK Confederation of Futebol de Salão

WHAT IS FUTEBOL DE SALÃO?

The game of Futebol de Salão is a great way for children to have fun whilst at the same time developing their football skills. The small, heavy ball used in the game does not bounce allowing all children to get involved in the game. It is the game that helped Brazilian players such as Pele, Ronaldo and Rivaldo to master their skills.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

The game of Futebol de Salão is played at over 200 Brazilian Soccer schools throughout the UK & Ireland where children come to practice their skills in a fun, safe and friendly atmosphere.

WHERE DOES IT TAKE PLACE?

For details of your nearest Brazilian Soccer School please visit www.icfds.com or call on 0113 286 1222.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED IN THE SKILLS BADGE SCHEME

The 5-level awards scheme is launching in September 2001 and has been designed to give children of all ages and abilities the chance to develop their skills whilst also giving teachers and parents support and help to coach these skills. Please ask your teacher to enrol for the scheme or visit www.icfds.com for further details.
