Which Building Set should I buy?

At the LEGO Company, we believe the best play experiences stimulate creativity, learning and fun. With more than 70 years' experience developing children's imaginations, and winning hundreds of awards from toy experts for our products, here are our suggestions to help you make the right choice:

• Choose age-appropriate sets your child can master – those with clear building instructions and lots of inspiration.

• Look for versatility so that your purchase becomes an investment. Can your child build more than just the model shown on the box?

• Look for PLAY value, not just price value. Not all construction toys are created equal.

• Invest in a construction system that grows with your child.

We are always here to answer your questions or recommend the best product for your child and we welcome your feedback.

Call the LEGO Company on 08457 080070 or visit www.LEGO.com/service

We look forward to hearing from you!

BETTER STEP-BY-STEP BUILDING INSTRUCTIONS

Every LEGO® set contains the clearest, most detailed and easy-to-follow step-by-step instructions to guide your child.

MORE IDEAS

LEGO® box and tub labels show you examples of what can be made from each set, plus there's an idea book to help your child get started.

MORE POSSIBILITIES

LEGO® comprises over 3,000 unique and compatible pieces in 75 colours, and every set shows alternate models and building possibilities, inspiring and empowering your child to build better models and have more fun.
The LEGO brand delivers the only construction system that grows with your child, from as young as 12 months up to school-age and beyond. There's a brick for every child with LEGO QUATRO, LEGO DUPLO, LEGO Creator and LEGO Technic!
