LEGOLAND Castle stands beyond the town. And now there are 2 new sets you can add to it, including a tournament and jousting knights.

In LEGOLAND Town you lay out your own roads, build your own houses - and rebuild them just as you want.

With LEGOLAND You Can Build Your Own World -And Play for Hours

What's special about LEGOLAND is that you can make your own world in miniature. It can be a Town, a Space adventure or a Castle with bold knights. And after you have built it you can change it as often as you like, to make it just the way you want it!

You Start With the Plates

Before you start your LEGOLAND Town you put the plates down to make roads or landing strips. You can lock them together by building models across the joins so that they stay put.

What do You Want to Build?

Each box has an instruction sheet to help you build the model. Later on though, you'll want to make up your own variations: a swimming pool for your town or a UFO for your space programme. That's the fun of LEGO® models, they can turn into quite different things from those shown on the box.

The Cars Really Race Along

The small cars go so fast that LEGOLAND police no longer enforce a speed limit. Give them a little push and see how fast they'll go. You are in control!

This is How You Put Your Building Plates

There are so many ways to arrange your plates. Here are just a few ideas. You might find ways you like better.

It's a new toy every day

Get the People Moving

The tiny people in LEGOLAND like movement. You can move their arms and legs, get them to carry things - and switch their hats and helmets.
